

North West Cruiseship Association of Alaska Inc. v. State of Alaska

The NWCA of Alaska is suing the State of Alaska in Superior Court to take the CSBI off the August primary ballot. Following the failure of their ex-CIA contractor to turn up the forgeries they'd hoped to find in our petition booklets, their lawyers have been twisting every technicality in the State's signature-certification process to try and keep Alaskans from voting on this issue. A group of tourism businesses operating in Alaska (who make big bucks on the cruise industry) signed onto the lawsuit, but you can bet the cruise lines are footing the legal bill...so who is the NWCA of Alaska?
